- Reasons for revisions

Amid the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, additional measures to expand sales and reduce and streamline expenses were carried out in order to achieve the full-year consolidated forecasts. However, as the rapid spread of COVID-19 has caused people to refrain from leaving their homes in Japan, and lockdowns are in effect in the U.S., Europe and other markets, the situation is expected to remain severe in the fourth quarter. Accordingly, the Company has decided to downwardly revise its forecasts for net sales, operating income, ordinary income, and net income attributable to owners of the parent company.
